GATHIE FALK

Gathie Falk is one of British Columbia's leading artists. She is an internationally acclaimed painter and sculptor who is best known for the imaginative and conceptual treatment she gives to everyday objects.

She was born in Alexander, Manitoba in 1928 to Mennonite parents. As a child Gathie Falk dreamed of becoming an artist, a musician, a dancer or a writer and spent countless hours drawing movie stars. Her first formal training in art was at Saturday morning art classes held at the Winnipeg Art Gallery. In 1946 Gathie Falk moved with her family to Vancouver and began working full time in a factory to help support them. While working, she completed her high school by correspondence, then in 1952, entered the Provincial Normal School to train as a teacher.

In 1953 Gathie Falk began teaching elementary school in Burnaby and continued this job with much success until 1965. Throughout her career as a teacher she continued to up-grade her qualifications and began to study art and seriously pursue both painting and ceramics in the Faculty of Education at the University of British Columbia.

In 1965 Gathie Falk resigned her teaching position and began full time work as an artist. Since then, she has gained much recognition for her painting, ceramic sculpture and performance art and has consistently won praise from the critics for her surrealist/conceptual approach to visual art. Gathie Falk is a very prolific artist who continues to exhibit regularly. She has participated in group and solo exhibitions in Canada, the United States, France and Japan. Her art can be found in more than 35 private and public collections including the National Gallery of Canada. In 1990, Gathie Falk was awarded the $25,000.00 Gershon Iskowitz Prize for her contribution to Canadian Art. Gathie Falk is truly one of the most important artists of our time.

The lithograph "North Shore Roses" is a classic Gathie Falk image. Her quest to organize images from her daily life with memories from her past are most evident in this work. It is at once a setting for a performance or it can be seen more purely as objects swirling in surreal space! Gathie Falk has composed her roses, birds, benches, garden plots, a glass box and the ziggurat with a vibrant and energizing drawing that brings this portrait of her experience to life.

Gathie Falk carefully checks a proof of "North Shore Roses" being pulled in Prior Editions' print shop.

The "Artists for Kids" Trust

The "Artists for Kids" Trust was established in 1990 through the generous cooperation among some of Canada's finest artists and the North Vancouver Board of School Trustees. Its mission is to build a permanent trust fund through the sale of fine art prints and to establish a permanent collection of art work by Canada's foremost artists. The "Trust" provides annual scholarships and on-going Fine Arts enrichment opportunities for elementary and secondary students in North Vancouver schools.

Canadian artists supporting the program include Bill Reid, Gordon Smith, Jack Shadbolt, Robert Bateman, Joe Fafard, Gathie Falk, Alan Wood, Betty Goodwin and Molly Lamb Bobak.

To make an appointment to view Gathie Falk's print "North Shore Roses" or if you would like more information about the "Artists for Kids" Trust, contact: Bill MacDonald, North Vancouver School District, 810 West 21st Street, North Vancouver, B.C. V7P 2C1
